Pearson Fires Yvon Dupuis From Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson has asked for and received the resignation of Yvon Dupuis, minister without portfolio, it was announced today.

Mr. Dupuis' resignation is effective today. It applies only to his cabinet post, not to his Commons seat of St. Jean-Baptiste, Napserville.

No explanation was given for the request for Mr. Dupuis' resignation. The dramatic announcement was made to a group of reporters by Richard O'Hagan, press secretary to the prime minister, while a special cabinet meeting was still in progress.

READS STATEMENT

Mr. O'Hagan read from a prepared statement of two sentences.

"On Wednesday of this week, the prime minister asked Mr. Yvon Dupuis, minister without portfolio, to relinquish his position in the federal administration."

"Effective today, Mr. Dupuis is no longer a member of the government."

Mr. Dupuis, 38, was absent from today's cabinet meeting and believed to be at home in St. John's, Que.

Mr. O'Hagan said no other details would be given to the press today. He said Mr. Pearson will not comment when today's cabinet meeting ends.

The meeting started at 10 a.m. EST and was still in progress nearly three hours later.

Earlier today, a spokesman in the prime minister's office said Mr. Dupuis had not resigned from the cabinet. He made this statement when asked by reporters to comment on a Toronto Star story that the minister's resignation appeared imminent.

The story said that Mr. Dupuis' constituency has been mentioned in connection with an RCMP investigation into a race-track franchise in Quebec.

Mr. Dupuis was first elected to the Commons in 1958 and re-elected in 1962 and 1963. He was appointed minister without portfolio Feb. 3, 1964.

Mr. Dupuis' resignation leaves the federal cabinet with 23 members, including the prime minister.

Three Provinces Had A 'W-Day' With Pensions, Medicare Plans

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It was a day for welfare legislation in three provincial legislatures sitting Thursday.

Ontario heard it will participate in the Canada Pension Plan, Quebec got details of why it won't. And in British Columbia, there was news of a new medical care insurance program.

Premier John Robarts said his decision to take Ontario into the federal pension plan was based in part on a desire to preserve national unity and in part on amendments made to the plan to satisfy Ontario objections.

Mr. Robarts said the most serious criticism of the federal plan is that it makes no provision for the needs of certain classes of persons. He tabled a submission from the province plans to make to a special joint committee of the Senate and Commons studying the pension plan bill.

Liberal Leader Andrew Thompson and New Democratic Party Leader Donald C. Macdonald congratulated the premier on his decision.

The Quebec government announced in the speech from the throne that legislation to establish a portable and contributory pension plan to take effect by Jan. 1, 1966, will be given priority.

A government spokesman said the Quebec plan will dovetail with the federal one, forming no obstacles to workers moving to and from the province.

In the British Columbia legislature, a highlight of the throne speech was an announcement that the Social Credit government plans a health insurance program aimed at low-income groups.

The plan—to provide a voluntary medical health care plan for those who are not on welfare but whose incomes are insufficient for them to afford the full cost of medical insurance—will be operated through private insurance plans.

Witness Tells Of Plea To M.P. For Freeing Of Friend In Jail

MONTREAL (CP)—Lucien Rivard, 49-year-old suspected narcotics-smuggling conspirator, told the Dorion inquiry today he once asked Liberal M.P. Guy Rouleau to help get a "friend" transferred to a new jail and released.

The thin-lipped, stocky hotel-keeper, brought before the inquiry handcuffed to a provincial police officer, said he went to Ottawa with Rouleau's brother Raymond "in a sense" to ask Guy Rouleau, the Liberal M.P. for Montreal-Dorion, for a favor.

"To do what?" asked commission counsel Andre Desjardins.

"To help my friend," replied Rivard.

"Buck Tremblay?" asked Mr. Desjardins.

"Oh you know about it," Rivard replied.

Rivard said he had asked Rouleau who resigned last Nov. 24 as parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister Pearson, to have Tremblay released, adding "transferred and liberated."

The exact date of the trip was not given but Rivard's counsel, Raymond Daoust, told the court that it was before the events into which the Dorion commission is inquiring.

The walkout occurred four days before a strike deadline called for 2 p.m. Monday by the United Auto Workers (UAW) to back up demands for a new contract. The previous contract expired Nov. 15.

PENTICTON STUDENTS RECEIVE STIRLING TROPHY

The R.J.R. Stirling Memorial Trophy for top marks in fruit judging was presented to two Penticton high school students Thursday at the 76th annual meeting of the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association in Vernon's Legion hall. This year agriculture students from Rutland high school, Princess Margaret secondary school Penticton and Penticton secondary school competed for the prize. Those taking part had to judge four plates of five apples each in two classes and give written reasons for their placing. Judge was Mike Oswald, district agriculturalist at Vernon. Shown receiving the trophy from Bill Ritchie, on behalf of the BCFG, executive, are Hank Tullberg and Robert Redmond. (Courier photo)

Fanatics Arrested In Iran

TEHRAN (AP)—Two more

young Muslim fanatics have been arrested and charged with participating in the attempted assassination on Premier Ali Mansour, police announced today.

Mansour, hit by two bullets Thursday as he stepped from his car to enter parliament, was reported "improving satisfactorily."

Mohammed Bokharai, 20, was arrested immediately after Mansour was shot and was charged with the shooting.

Police identified the two arrested later as Reza Saffar Herandi, 23, a shoe store worker, and Morteza Niknejad, 22, a drapery shop employee. Both worked in the old Tehran Bazaar, site of many political plots.

Police said the two admitted being in the parliament square at the time of the shooting.

An official said Bokharai had quotations from the Muslim holy book, the Koran, on his pistol. There were four unfired bullets still in the weapon.

Police said the other two men were armed and had similar pistols bearing religious slogans. Slips of paper pasted to their pistols had on them such slogans as "down with the undemocratic regime of shah." They were reported to have fired shots which did not hit Mansour.

The shah's reform program, including the purchase of large holdings from landlords to sell to peasants on easy terms, and giving women political and social rights, has angered ultra-conservative religious circles.

Police are investigating two motor vehicle accidents in Kelowna Thursday. No injuries were reported from either.

Damage is estimated at $600 following a two car collision at Bernard Ave. and Ethel St., at 9 a.m. RCMP said drivers were Dorothy Mabel Donnan, 925 Borden Ave., and Leonard Douglas Little, 2171 Richter St.

At 3:45 p.m. a two car collision occurred at Glenmore St. and Clement Ave. Damage may be under $100 police said. Drivers were Frank Hawkey, Saucier Road, and Mrs. Agnes Gasparidone, 539 Roanoke Ave., RCMP said.

Three Men And Dog Die In Plane Crash

PAMPA, Tex. (AP)—Three men and a pet dog died as a Cessna-180 light plane nosedived out of a clear sky and crashed in an oil field west of here in the Texas Panhandle Thursday. Sure, And It's Another Round In That Same Old Donnybrook!

PORT LAOIGHISE, Ireland

(Reuters)—Club singing police charged a crowd outside the court house here today when 10 men appeared in court in connection with incidents during Princess Margaret's recent visit.

Store windows were smashed. The crowd became unruly during an adjournment of the hearing.

Several clashes occurred. Two persons were injured and one arrested before the police eventually forced the shouting crowd down the street away from the court.

The disturbances broke out after some 200 policemen were drafted in from surrounding counties to prevent a repetition of fighting at two earlier hearings.

Justice W. Sweetman, who adjourned the case from nearby Mountmellick on Tuesday after a battle between police and protesters, and their supporters during the hearing said only those directly concerned with the case and the press will be allowed in court today.

Before his address, the Young Progressive Conservative Association gathering gave him a vote of confidence.

Mr. Diefenbaker objected to what he said were claims he had harmed Confederation.

"Am I to blame for bringing in the flag issue?" he asked.

"Am I to blame that the Queen was brought to Canada and received the reception she did?"

He said Prime Minister Pearson is "dedicated to two nations or associated states—that's what's happening."

An indication of the Liberal trend toward dividing Canada, Mr. Diefenbaker added, was a recent resolution by Young Liberals in Ontario that the Queen should be abolished.

"If I'm to blame it's because we stood against those policies," he said.

NEW RECIPE FOR LONGEVITY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John Hogue, who is 100 years old today, has a new recipe for long life: Mine coal.

Hogue did that for 61 years, in Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Mining is beneficial, he said, because:

1. It makes you take a good hot bath at the end of the day.

2. No one calls much in a coal mine when miners get home at night they are too tired to do anything but eat a light, simple meal and go straight to bed.

3. It is good exercise.

Too much good and too little rest are big reasons why most people don't live to be 100, Hogue says.

He also said another thing may have helped him keep fit—a daily dose of whisky mixed with quinine, and coal tar.

Fire Outbreak Near Winnie

LONDON (CP)—Sir Winston Churchill's spark of life still glowed feebly today, his condition unchanged after a quiet night, a medical bulletin announced.

As he continued his valiant fight, a fire broke out near his bedroom in an apartment house immediately behind his town house. Dense clouds of smoke churned outside the statesman's window.

With muted bells in consideration of the 90-year-old Sir Winston's desperate illness, four fire engines sped to the fire and put it out.

W. D. McPherson of Edmonton, general manager of the railway's mountain region, testified to the Freedman commission that if a run-through, eluding a tangle of crew changes, trains could pass through the community at the authorized speed of 60 miles an hour.

Earlier, Mr. McPherson told the one-man federal commission that with train crews running through and the engine crews still changing at Wainwright—on proposed by the CNR for Oct. 25, 1964—a minimum of five minutes would be gained over time required for both engine and train crews to change.

The evidence was given during the eighth day of hearings before Mr. Justice Samuel.

WINNIPEG (CP)—A CNR official repeated today the railway would save at least 20 minutes if crews did not have to change at Wainwright, Alta.

$20,000 Provided In Budget To Allow Directors Leeway

VERNON (Staff)—Fruit

industry officials are meeting in Vernon today to make top-level decisions on resolutions and ideas passed on to them from the 76th annual convention which ended here Thurs night.

The major decision involves the question of a survey of B.C. Tree Fruits and its methods of disposing of the annual fruit crop.

Resolution No. 14, presented to the convention by Okanagan Mission local, was tabled by the convention. It had called for the BCFG executive to retain the services of a management consultant firm to assess the operation of B.C. Tree Fruits and examine the relationship between B.C. Tree Fruits and Sun-Rype Products Ltd.

When the budget came before the convention Thursday afternoon the whole matter was re-opened.

Some delegates felt the survey, if it is to be conducted, should be paid for by B.C. Tree Fruits.

Arthur Garrish, BCFG president, explained the money was in the budget to allow the executive to go ahead with the survey if they so desired, but he indicated the executive was not decided upon whether BCFG should pay for the survey or if B.C. Tree Fruits should pay for it.

INDICATIONS NOTED

Although Mr. Garrish did not say so, indications are that a survey will be conducted.

The budget, including money for the survey, was approved by the convention and it is now up to the executive to decide if a survey is to be held and who shall pay the bill.

John Hall, in presenting the budget, said the executive if they had the survey, intended taking any amount over and above the $20,000 from BCFG reserves.

FEELINGS EXPRESSED

During discussion of the resolution delegates indicated they felt the executive should look after the matter without too much direct influence from the growers.

The executive met during the noon break Thursday and after an hour-long discussion, put an item of $20,000 into the 1965 budget to provide for the survey.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) Tires 9, a mechanical meteorologist designed to roll through space on its side like a huge cartwheel, rocketed into orbit today in another step toward an operational weather satellite forecasting system.

Tires 9 is expected to obtain the best camera coverage yet of the earth's weather pattern, eclipsing the performance of any of its eight successful predecessors.

The earlier Tires satellites snapped a total of more than 415,000 cloud photos and drastically changed the business of weather prediction.

A three-stage delta rocket was launched on schedule at 2:52 a.m. EST and it placed the 305-pound satellite into a north-south polar orbit more than 400 miles high. From this outpost in space, Tires 9 was to provide continuous pictures of cloud cover below.

GENERAL ELECTION LOOMS IN BRITAIN

Defeated Walker Quits

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker resigned today, government informants said, and Prime Minister Harold Wilson will appoint a successor later tonight.

Gordon Walker suffered a humiliating defeat in a special by-election Thursday. Earlier reports said Wilson himself might take over the foreign office, at least temporarily.

The defeat of Gordon Walker, coming at the end of the Labor government's first 100 days in office, reduced the government's majority in the House of Commons to the narrow margin of three votes.

The blow was so devastating for the Labor party that Lord Sorensen, who resigned the seat to make way for Gordon Walker, predicted there would be another general election this year, in the spring or fall.

Labor lost Leyton but retained the Nuneham by-election where Frank Cousins, minister of technology, got his first seat but a sharply reduced majority.

The effective Labor majority in the 630-seat Commons now is three. Three more by-elections, in Conservative seats, will be held Feb. 4, and a fourth some time later.

With Wilson's slim majority cut, Liberal Leader Jo Grimond, whose party holds nine Commons seats, called on Wilson to halt the "nonsensical" plans of nationalization of the steel industry.

Grimond indicated he would stop supporting Labor unless Wilson develops policies that have wider appeal than to "the hard core of left-wing socialist voters."

At Leyton the Tory share of the vote increased to 42.9 per cent from 33.5 per cent in the October general election. Labor's share dropped to 42.4 per cent from 49.5 per cent. The Liberal share was 13.9 per cent compared with 16.2 per cent last time.

The percentages in the five-way race at Nuneham, with general election percentages in brackets: Labor 48.9 (52.8); Conservative 34.9 (29.1); Liberal 16.2 (18.1). Two Independent seats got few votes.

OSTA Adds U.S. In Promotion Plan

The Okanagan Similkameen Tourist Association (OSTA) decided at their monthly meeting in Kelowna, to divert some of their 1965 advertising budget from the Prairies to the United States.

H. S. Harrison Smith, chairman, said money will be used to distribute literature and place advertisements with news media, particularly in eastern Washington and Idaho states.

Attending the meeting were 11 representatives from Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton. Kelowna chamber representatives are W. T. J. Blumh, Pat Currell, Arthur Martin, Homer Robinson, secretary, and R. K. "Bob" Gordon.

A survey made by the visitor and convention bureau of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce showed only 11.8 per cent of our visitors come from the United States, Mr. Gordon said. "Of these, 51 per cent come from Washington, 25 from California and 26 from other U.S. points."

Vernon agreed to compile a similar survey from their 1965 files to give a complete Valley picture.

The meeting agreed to send a letter of commendation to P. A.

Bob Gordon
Caglar, minister of highways, for the prompt action taken in the recent slide disaster on the Hope-Princeton highway. The next regular meeting will be held February 21 in the boardroom of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce.

'Parade Of Homes' Project Planned For Kelowna Area

A "Parade of Homes" project is slated for the Kelowna area in mid-September, 1965, sponsored by the Kelowna Housebuilders' association.

Gordon Lee, president, said arrangements have been made to reserve 12 lots on one street in a new subdivision. Each of the 10 or 12 homes will be constructed by a different contractor, a member of the association.

"The homes will be opened to the public, landscaped and furnished for at least two weeks," he said. "Personnel will be available to escort visitors through."

The Kelowna housebuilders' association is composed of 21 district contractors and suppliers.

Approval Given 28 Motions Of 48 Presented At Meeting

VERNON (Staff) — Resolutions or other committees might aid in the work of the group. He said the last planning committee had many suggestions that were implemented and bore good fruit.

Public relations of BCFGA came in for lengthy discussion. A resolution seeking a press secretary was tabled. Delegates agreed, speaking on that resolution, that better public relations were necessary, but left the idea with the directors.

A motion calling for increased communication from the top echelon to the grower in a way suitable to the directors was passed.

A resolution calling for a complete remodeling of the industry, under a single elective body, was tabled, but other resolutions passed dealt with the same subject.

Late resolution "K" seeking a planning committee similar to one that produced good results some 12 years ago was passed. It had effect, calls for a complete survey of BCFGA affairs.

Harry Byatt, of Ouyama, the mover of the resolution, suggested some of the aspects the committee might look into include the fact some locals were not functioning, the general manager of Sun-Rype and B.C. Tree Fruits might be made a voting member of the directorate, it might be possible the association has too many committees.

A resolution calling for the employment of a commercial traveler to service out-of-town stores was tabled, but the idea was referred to the upcoming survey of the industry.

Problems in estimating the apricot crop last year are said to have cost growers $30,000. The cost of the survey of the industry was $10,000. A resolution asking the BCFGA officials to take steps to see the trouble does not occur again.

Resolutions were passed asking the Fish and Game branch to take on both gopher and starling control.

The Okanagan Television system carries a 15 minute program dealing with farm subjects and the convention asks the time be increased to 30 minutes a week. Unemployment in a rural area, crop insurance and added monies for orchard renewal will be sought following the passage of other resolutions.

The convention actually deliberated 25 hours during the three days.

Many people were surprised there were no real fireworks after the discussions heard in the Valley during the summer and fall.

Delegates indicated they had confidence in their executive and re-elected men to the top posts, the overall presidency and the B.C. Fruit Board. However a number of directors to other elective bodies were not returned.

The 17th annual meeting will be held next year in Penticton.

The Comfortable Pew Is Uncomfortable Reading

Pierre Berton, perhaps the best-known journalist, author and commentator in Canada, is also the most controversial. As soon as his name was linked with a book about the Church an angry argument was underway. It is doubtful if any previous book has caused so much controversy before it was written or even researched.

Mr. Berton was chosen to write a critique of the Church, in the words of Frederick Wooding, the Anglican public relations officer, because he is "an outstanding writer and a man of integrity who can be relied upon to take a strong stand and balanced viewpoint." The decision, Mr. Wooding said, reflected the thinking of the Anglican Congress of 1963.

"The Comfortable Pew" will be released to the public today.

If there has been controversy before publication, there certainly will be controversy after publication. Mr. Berton looks at the Church—all denominations, including the Roman Catholic—with a critical eye, as is to be expected. He does not make harsh denunciations but he makes his points bluntly nevertheless.

He tells how as a boy he became disillusioned with the church and his experiences could well be those of the majority of young boys. As a result of this disillusionment he left the church, as have many others.

He charges the Church has abdicated its leadership and discusses this under such headings as "Was God really on our side?" "Can nuclear war ever be just?" "What color was Christ?" "Is good business the Church business?" and "Can Christian morality be pre-packaged?"

He reviews the tyranny of the religious establishment under such subjects as "The ecclesiastical caste system," "Religion versus Christianity," "The Casting Out of the Outcasts" and "The Comfortable Pew."

He charges the Church has failed in its communications with the people and expands this in such chapters as "Pretensions to absolute righteousness," "The special language of priesthood," "The lukewarm pulpit."

His final chapter is devoted to the future of the Church as he sees it. He wonders whether a revolution within the Church is still possible, although he is inclined to think it is too late for the church to change and regain its former role.

The Comfortable Pew is a book which should be read by all persons who are interested in the Church and its role in modern day life. Everyone will not agree with everything Berton says, but no one, we think, will read the book and fail to give serious thought to his statements and arguments.

Basically Berton differentiates between "religion" and "Christianity." He feels the Church establishment tends toward "religion" to the detriment of Christianity. In one place he says: "Religion, of course, has always been the basis in any society of moral order, of law, of responsibility. What is moral and what is respectable, however, differ from society to society and from age to age. Though religion may be able to support a system of social morals at any given period, it is questionable whether Christianity can. For Christianity is supposed to be a religion with a difference. It is a universal religion—universal in time and universal in space. That being so, how can it survive if it tries to be the basis of a fleeting social respectability? If Christianity becomes merely a passport to status and prestige in various societies, then it will surely wither away."

And again: "Religion as we know it, as distinct from Christianity, is, in my opinion, coming to an end, in spite of the present evidences of its power. And Christianity, if it is to survive as a meaningful faith and ethic, must rid itself of religion's trappings and false goals. It has been my observation that, just as many 'religious' people are not really Christians, so many others, for whom Christianity is genuinely the clue to life and conduct, do not need or want what is called 'religion' in the New Age. They reject it... and it angers them that the establishment must require of them that they be 'religious' before they can be called Christians."

The Comfortable Pew is not a long book, but it is absorbing. Berton has put on paper what many people have been thinking and saying for a long time. Much will be heard of this book in the coming weeks and months.

THESE MINORITY FOSTER PARENTS CAN ACT PRETTY TOUGH

Ancient Medical Practice Studied By Red Chinese

TORONTO (CP) — China is keeping alive primitive medical practices alongside sophisticated modern medicine, a Canadian doctor reports after a visit to the world's most populous country.

Dr. K. A. C. Elliott of McGill University, Montreal, says traditional medicine is being preserved partly because of a shortage of doctors trained in modern methods and partly to permit studies of the old methods to see if they have any sound scientific basis.

Writing about his visit in the Journal of the Canadian Medical Association, Dr. Elliott says the best of medical training and practice in China compare favorably with that in the West.

Traditional medicine, based on thousands of years of lore, includes such treatment methods as acupuncture, whereby pain is relieved by the counter-irritation of needle injections. The needles also are used to draw off body fluid.

"The modern physicians are not obviously disturbed by it (traditional medicine) and some feel that it often succeeds though they don't know why," Dr. Elliott says.

"It was told that 85 per cent of appendicitis cases treated by acupuncture do not need surgery—but there is modern surgery for those who do need it..."

"Colleges of traditional medicine are maintained so that the lore and know-how associated with it can be kept going until it can all be scientifically assessed..." There has been and still is a shortage of doctors and for this reason also it has been necessary to keep trained practitioners of traditional medicine at work."

Dr. Elliott, head of the McGill biochemistry department and an experimental neurologist, went to China as the first Canadian delegate in the Norman Bethune Exchange Professorship under which professors at McGill and the Chinese Medical College in Peking will make alternate annual visits of a month each between China and Canada.

The exchange program was arranged in memory of Montreal-trained Dr. Norman Bethune, who served as surgeon, teacher and hospital organizer in China before his death during the war against Japan.

"I got the impression that my Chinese colleagues were remarkably well-informed and interested but also that they were starved for contact and exchange with foreign scientists."

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Heavy Drinker Taking Poison

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has been a very heavy drinker who paid no attention when he was told he would end with a liver condition. He admitted to the doctor that he drank a quart or more of whiskey a day.

In March of 1962 he came home from work with a pain in his chest. He had a slight heart attack. Tests also revealed that he had cirrhosis of the liver. He was bloated and his color was not normal.

This was it. He stopped drinking and was a different person. However, he never will be his old self again. His legs swell and he gets cramps. But he didn't drink for two years.

He visited our son in another city and a doctor there told him his heart is O.K. and that he could have two drinks a day. My husband didn't say anything about his liver or what our doctor had told him on drinking.

What will happen to him? And you should see the size of the two drinks he takes! It was a decent life with him not drinking. Our son and grandchildren loved coming home to see us. Goodness only knows how it will be now.—D.D.

Your letter just about says it all. Obviously your husband told the doctor about his heart attack but NOT about his liver and his past drinking habits.

Doctors aren't mind readers. (And that's one of the reasons why I consistently urge people to have a regular physician and to stick with him as long as possible. Your doctor, knowing the story, wouldn't have given your husband an excuse to start drinking again. A couple of drinks for an ordinary person who has recovered from a slight heart attack is reasonable enough. But letting a quart-a-day man get started again, after he already has cirrhosis, is something else again.)

You don't have to be a mind reader to reveal the future. Get your regular doctor to tell your husband what is going to happen to that damaged liver once it begins being poisoned by alcohol again.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have read your articles and fully agree with you that alcohol is a drug, but I do NOT agree that any use of it is helpful in any way. I am past 75 and have seen too many cases where one or two drinks leads to more.

I'm sure you know it is the moderate drinker who is the menace on our highways, and not the drunkard who will go off in a ditch or be home sleeping. I'm sure you will get many letters from people who agree with me.—MRS. E.S.

The person who lets one or two drinks lead him into excesses is not a moderate drinker. And most certainly after what I have seen of the aftermath of thoroughly soured drunks trying to drive, I deny your supposition that a drunkard will go off in a ditch or be home sleeping.

Dear Dr. Molner: My little brother's teacher (third grade) told the children that if the little girls watched too much television, they would become sterile. Is there any truth in that?—GIRL FROM CAMDEN

I can't imagine that any third-grade teacher would hand out such a stupid tale and I'd ask the boy whether he really heard it from her.

The Smoke Signal

Unless and until toasts to Her Majesty the Queen can be proposed with sincerity and honored with loyal feeling, as they should be, they should be abandoned.

In farcical performances, countless Canadians rise to such toasts, wave available drinking vessels and resume their seats. Some of the cups will be empty, others will contain the dregs of tea or coffee.

Some of the glasses may contain water, wine or even beer or whisky. A few of those involved may touch the drinking vessel to their lips, a few may sip the contents, but most will merely wave and resume their seats.

This is because, increasingly, the toast is becoming the dining room equivalent of turning off the "no smoking light" in commercial aircraft... simply the chairman's way of telling smokers that light-up time has arrived. Occasionally some of the guests will have taken a few surreptitious drags at a cigarette before the toast is proposed. Indeed, to foil such cheaters, the toast occasionally is advanced. It becomes the first item on the program and is proposed before the dinner commences.

To cheapen the ancient and honorable custom of declaring loyalty in this way is the quint-essence of bad taste. Use of the toast simply as a signal to commence smoking is almost an insult to Her Majesty and should offend every loyal Canadian. Surely a chairman or toastmaster could simply suggest that courteous diners should refrain from smoking until others have finished their meals. If necessary, a simple announcement could signal permission to smoke.

And the toast to The Queen should be honored with decorum.

A Heap o' Authors

The schools of Upper Darby, near Philadelphia town, no longer read the Bible because the jurists frown. But inspiration kids must have before they start the day, so other readers have been found to send them on their way. A teacher has assembled these in a fat anthology, and none again, or so it's thought, will demand apology.

It takes a heap o' authors to make an inspiratin' tome t' read t' little children when the Bible's left at home. Oh, there's Shakespeare, an' there's Plato, an' Aristotle, too, whose thoughts about the universe will never be taboo. But how about ol' Edgar Guest? Some folks may think it odd that his sentimental jingles are a substitute for God.

In Passing

Fate is a grim joker. The man who climbs a mountain had better be especially careful thereafter lest he stumble on a molehill and break his neck.

Few Western nations give a damn that their chief ally, Uncle Sam, has got himself into a jam... In giving help to Viet Nam.

Why do directors of variety television programs consider it necessary to open the show with all the participants strenuously skittering around like a cat shot in the rear with hot tacks?

"The most favorable thing I can say about Christmas," asserts a cynic, "is that it comes only once a year."

OTTAWA REPORT

Proud, Big Day On The Island

By PATRICK NICHOLSON
Daily Courier Ottawa Bureau

The most praiseworthy and sincere, though little reported, celebration of the 150th anniversary of the birth of the Architect of Confederation was perhaps that staged appropriately at Charlottetown, the Cradle of Confederation.

Heath Macquarrie, the scholarly and sentimental historian of Conservatism, made a brief trip to Parliament Hill from his constituency last week. I found him glow with pride and joy that "The Island" had been able, without the backing of a rich provincial government and without support from the Canadian Centennial Commission, to stage this moving celebration on January 11.

It was all arranged by our Young P.C. Club, and me. The crowd overflowed the proposed venue, and we had to move to the theatre in the Fathers of Confederation Memorial Building.

Heath himself served as Master of Ceremonies. Making in a non-partisan way, the guest speaker, Island-born Dean W. S. McNott of UNB was introduced by Liberal MP John McLaughlin, and thanked by Leo McIsaac, defeated NDP candidate. Highland music appropriately had its place in the evening's program, and the large audience enjoyed a screening of the film of Sir John A. Macdonald produced by the National Film Board.

WILTING CENTENNIAL The Department of Agriculture has got in on the Centennial Act. It has authorized the choice of "The Centennial Tree" of Canada, the Alamy rose-tinted crab-apple. But many complaints have been received from the colder parts of Canada that it cannot live in our climate, and perishes in the winter. Nevertheless even the crab-apple and its kind may find joy in its tiny bloom if they take the precaution of ensuring, as the Department recommends,

PAINTING WORTH WHAT?

Tourists in the Parliament Building are proudly shown a life-size oil painting of the Great White Queen. Two years ago I returned from Paris and asked if Queen Victoria was the first "theatrical" lady. It was not a favorable portrait of her because it depicts her right arm considerably shorter than her left. It is described simply as "by John Partridge (1780-1872)." Toronto's City Hall, I find, possesses an identical painting, the work of the distinguished 19th century German artist Franz Winterhalter. It is ascribed for some time to one of the better known works of that artist. What then is the painting owned by the Federal Government? Presumably, it is a copy of the Winterhalter work. Who was John Partridge? I can find no mention of him in any of the standard reference works. Will some future generation in its parliament charge that Ottawa possesses "a forgery" of a Winterhalter?

PARLIAMENTARY ECHO

Ottawa's enjoyed a good chuckle over a motto found in several Christmas cards during the holiday season here. It read, very appropriately in view of recent events on Parliament Hill—but more attentively as a piece of our modern out-of-date thinking: "We have furnished our house in the Early American style—that is, paid for it in cash."

TODAY in HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Jan. 22, 1863...

Queen Victoria died in England after the longest reign in British history—64 years—and was succeeded by her son, later King Edward VII, 64 years ago today—in 1901. The Queen's husband, Prince Albert, predeceased her by 30 years. Victoria's reign was noteworthy for the role she herself played in influencing or settling with her prime ministers—principally Disraeli and Gladstone. Her name was associated with the age of extravagantly decorative taste in the arts both in Europe and North America.

1947—Chinese Nationalist troops surrendered to Communist forces.

1915—An Indian assembly voted to adopt a resolution proclaiming India's independence.

Fifty years ago today—in 1915—British airmen raided Zeppelins, crippling a submarine and damaging land defences; hand-to-hand fighting was reported from sectors of the Alsace front where fighting was fiercest.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today—in 1941—the world's merchant marine losses since the war's start were given as 558 ships of 18 countries. The U.S. protested Britain's treatment of American shipping in the Mediterranean; German police forces supervised coastal and oil shipments on the Romanian border.

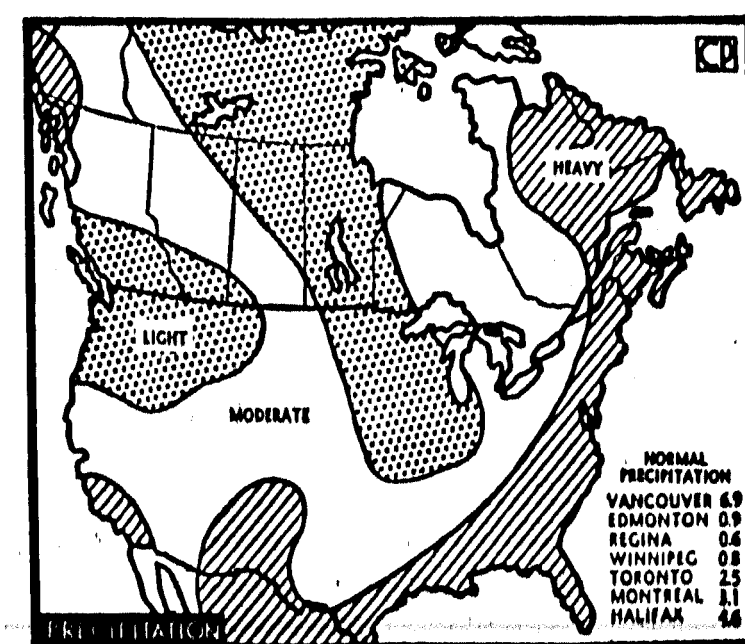

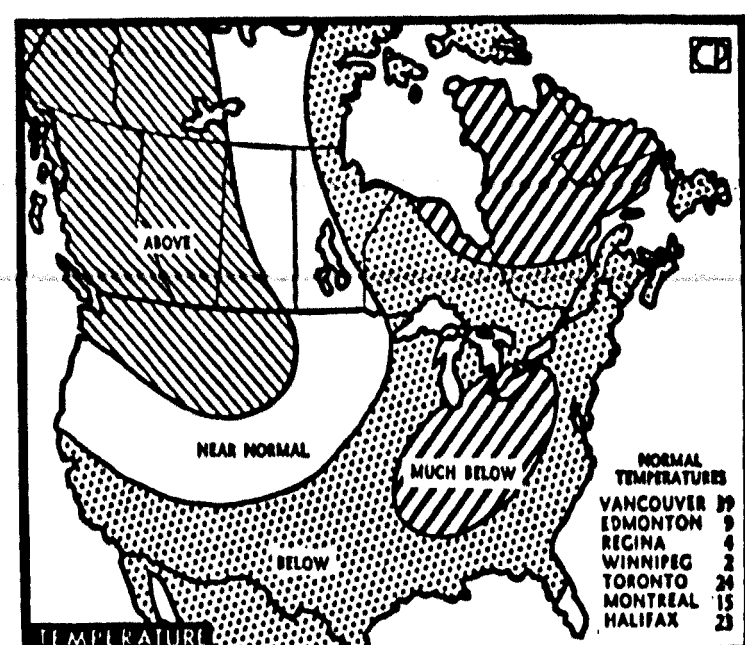

ASSAULTED GENTLY

BOOKING, England (CP) — New Kenneth Wade, five-foot-three dean of this Essex parish, surprised a hulking intruder at 11 a.m. and hurled the six-footer over his shoulder. Said the dean, a judo expert for many years: "I could have broken his shoulder, but I thought dislocation would be enough punishment."

BIBLE BRIEF

"Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses."—Psalms 107:13.

God's delight is in the deliverance of the faithful. "Call unto me in the hour of trouble and I will deliver thee and thou shalt glorify me."

SPLIT DOWN THE MIDDLE

Most of western Canada will have above normal temperatures in the period from mid-January to mid-February according to the 30-day outlook of the United States weather bureau. The eastern half of the country will have below or much below normal temperatures during the same period. Precipitation will be heavy in the Atlantic provinces and light in Manitoba and southern parts of British Columbia and Alberta. The rest of the country will have moderate precipitation. Precipitation is given in inches of rain; one inch of rain equals 10 inches of snow. The outlook is not a specific forecast and changes may occur. Other temperatures for the period: New York, 34; New Orleans, 55; San Francisco, 50. Other precipitation figures are: New York, 3.2; New Orleans, 3.9; San Francisco, 3.7.

MOVIE SUCCESSIONS

West Side Story, which grossed more than $30,000,000 around the world, is rated among the five most successful films of all times.

Big Money Movies Making Comeback

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The American film industry, riding the crest of renewed prosperity, has invested $108,000,000 in 13 movies with hopes of continuing the boom.

"Think big" has been the keynote of recent industry practice, the theory being that big pictures can mean big profits while small pictures seldom do. The system can bring near-disaster, as in the cases of Cleopatra and Mutiny on the Bounty.

But epics like Ben-Hur and The 10 Commandments can buoy a company's fortunes for a year or longer. And so nearly all of the major studios invested last year in large-scale films.

Some are the road-show or hard-ticket attraction, which means they will be exhibited on a reserved-seat, advanced-price basis. Others will go into general release.

Twentieth Century-Fox is the most bullish on the road-show films and will release three in 1965. They are:

Interesting Kelowna Visitor Is Artist Jane Rhyne Wise

Jane Rhyne Wise who is spending a few months visiting Kelowna has been an itinerant painter and has led a most interesting life since her marriage to artist John Wise in San Miguel Allende, Mexico, ten years ago.

In Mexico she managed a craft shop and specialized in the design of batiks, and later after moving to the Sierra Mountains of California she and her husband ran a painting lodge to which they travelled by horseback, living out of satchels while drawing and sketching the scenery. Next came another painting lodge in Florida, then they moved on to Spain where they lived in an old farmhouse overlooking the Mediterranean Coast and travelled all over the country by motor scooter. It was there that Mrs. Wise first took up painting seriously.

Several years ago the artist returned to Canada and home-stayed at Fauquier on the lower Arrow Lakes where she continued her painting using Acrylic, a synthetic liquid paint used with water as her medium. Works with Acrylics which has a remarkable fast-drying quality, resembling oil, which she painted in Kelowna in August.

At present she is spending two weeks visiting her daughter in the city of Seattle where she plans to make three visits to the artist.

Mrs. Wise often uses torn paper and torn cloth, vermouth, talcum powder and boxes to make many return der and detail picture which she has completely.

Mrs. Wise has estimated her last year's work at the Florida State University to the United States.

St. Andrews' Evening Guild Elects Officers For 1965

A new slate of officers was elected for 1965 at the annual Thrift Shop, rags, greeting cards, bridge tournament, catering at the Dorothea Walker of Mrs. N. T. Apsey, Lakeshore School, and participation in the annual bazaar. At the bazaar the Guild catered for the tea, as well as contributing to the home cooking. They also ran the novelty and flower arrangement stall as well as doing sewing and knitting. This past year they have given money to St. Andrew's Church, the Altar Guild, have supplied a new carpet, and contributed to the World Relief Fund.

Money was voted to be donated to the Church, the Altar Guild and to Sewing and Knitting. The Thrift Shop will be open in the Parish Hall (opposite Hall's store) on Friday, February 5th, from 2-4 p.m. There are many clothes in excellent condition. Donations are always welcome.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Favall, Paret Road, on Tuesday, February 16th. New members are most welcome.

All reports given showed that the Guild had had a very active year. Members have earned money from their Hobby Show.

ANN LANDERS

Put Husband In Twin Bed With His Bow-Wow

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married only a month and am having troubles I never expected. I've mentioned my problem to a few people but all they do is laugh. They think I'm joking.

Two weeks ago when Denny and I returned from our honeymoon his dog was very glad to see him. Shep had been in the kennels and I figured he would be especially happy to see his master. But it turns out Shep is more important to Denny than I thought. Denny confessed the dog has been sharing his bed for seven years. I was shocked and said so. Denny said "I'm sorry but I can't change things now. It would break Shep's heart."

Our bed is large, but no bed is large enough for a couple and a dog.

I haven't had a good night's sleep in two weeks and I don't know what to do. This is no gag. I'm dead serious. You hear about all sorts of kooky problems and I hope you can solve mine. — HONEYMOON GONE TO THE DOGS

Dear Gail: If your husband can't part with his bow-wow on a bed by time, order twin bed and tell him you love him and Shep will be very happy—way over there.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a fairly attractive private secretary on the living side of 30. All the men I work with (or near) are too old, too young, or married. The women around here are no help—if they knew of an eligible man they'd grab him for themselves.

Every day is like the day before—no incentive to dress smartly or to change my hair. Who would notice? The joke I heard today are retreads of the ones I heard last year.

My job pays well but I am dying of boredom. Since you are the lady with all the answers, how about tossing me one way?

SLEEPY HOLLOW
Dear Sleepy: Anyone as bored as you are isn't possibly doing a good job. Do yourself and the company a favor, and remove the corpse from the office. Get a new job. You need to see some new faces. People often become hopeless victims of lethargy because they are too selfish to extricate themselves. Get going, Sister. Life can be beautiful—but ya' gotta help.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me if I did right or wrong. My sister's husband became involved with another woman and she found out about it. They have four lovely children. Divorce is outlawed by her religion so my sister obtained a legal separation.

My husband and I used to see a great deal of them as a couple but when they began to have trouble we decided not to take sides.

Last Friday my husband ran into my brother-in-law and brought him home to dinner. We had a lovely evening and it was plain to see him again. Not one word was said about his personal problems.

This morning my sister phoned to say she was disgusted with us for entertaining "that loser" and since we have shown friendship for him she wants nothing more to do with us. Is she justified in her position? —BLACK SHEEP

Dear Sheep: Your sister has no right to tell you whom you may entertain in your home. If she chooses to interpret your act of friendship toward her estranged husband as an act of unfriendliness toward her, I'd say she is the loser, not you. A mature person would respect your neutrality but obviously your sister does not qualify.

HANDICAPPED WIFE
VANCOUVER (CP)—Bringing up her six children was more of a burden for Mrs. Lester Hodgins than most housewives experience. She is blind. Her husband, 56, also is blind and he has operated a cigar canteen here for 26 years.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Beaumont Sport Deluxe Coupe

'65 Beaumont is a genuine, honest-to-goodness low-price car
(It costs much, much less than its luxurious looks suggest)

'65 Beaumont is sized right in the middle between big and little (It'll fit your garage and park with ease)

'65 Beaumont is beautifully styled and luxuriously appointed (Just look. Now you see why most people think it's higher priced)

'65 Beaumont is made by General Motors
(So you know it's packed with all kinds of value)

'65 Beaumont is sold by your Beaumont-Pontiac-Buick dealer
(He's a good reliable man to do business with)

'65 Beaumont is a very remarkable car indeed . . . big enough inside to take mom, dad and a gaggle of small fry . . . yet small enough to shoehorn into the tightest parking spot. It has the kind of headturning beauty that gathers a crowd, yet it's responsive and agile as a hard-muscled sports car. You can pack it with exactly the power you like for your kind of driving. Pick the 120 hp Six . . . It'll give you outstanding economy, without being the slightest bit stingy on performance. And it's just one of 5 Beaumont engines available. Biggest being the 300 hp V8, giving you all the skeddaddle you could ever wish to put your toe to. One more thing. Beaumont has a wide range of body styles. There are 12 models in 4 series . . . including 3 completely different convertibles. All of which proves quite conclusively that '65 Beaumont would make a remarkably good choice for your next automobile.

Queen Silver Star Entrants Make First Bow To Society

VERNON—The eight 1965 Queen Silver Star V entrants made their debut and bow to society in the Powerhouse theatre Tuesday.

Queen committee chairman, Mrs. T. William Oxley, was MC and welcomed the 129 invited guests who included Vernon Chamber of Commerce members, the Vernon Winter Carnival Society executive and wives, parents of the candidates, friends and press.

Mrs. Oxley said normally the candidates' speeches would be presented at the annual Vernon Chamber of Commerce installation dinner this year on Jan. 26, but the date was too late for the "unknown" Queen Silver Star V judges, and an hour program with speeches and entertainment had been planned in the Powerhouse theatre instead.

Mrs. Oxley thanked the Kalamita Toastmistress Club for their assistance to the queen committee mentioning in particular the past president Mrs. Frank E. Stewart for her instructions in the candidates' speech training.

The program started with teenage youngsters from the Canadian School of Ballet dancing a ballet number, dressed in dainty pink ballet costumes with tutus.

The Queen SS V contestants appeared on stage individually, dressed in sportswear—shorts and attractive tops—Miss Gyro, Linda C. Macaskill, 17; Miss Kinsmen, Sheila Robinson, 18; Miss Jaycee, Linda L. Wutke, 17; Miss BPO Eiks, Brenda M. Brown, 17; Miss Lions, Connie Mitton, 18; Miss Knights, G. Pythias and Pythian Sisters, Irene Vecqueray, 19; Miss Teen Town Sweetheart, Joan C. Harwood, 18; and Miss Kivans, Hilary Brown, 17.

MUSICAL INTERLUDE

Male vocal trio including Dr. Don M. Lemski, George Richardson and Merton J. Bell playing an accompanying guitar treated the audience to three musical selections—Down in the Old Cherry Orchard, After All, and When You Were Sweet 16.

The candidates came on stage one at a time, wearing basic afternoon frocks with sparkling tucks in their hair. They gave their speeches with clear enunciation and expression. Miss Macaskill's topic was Vernon—the Silver Star City. Miss Robinson chose a fashion subject—Changing Lines. Miss Wutke, a former Vernon Girls' Trumpet Band member chose Burn of Vernon's Ambassadors, a history of Bob Hodgson's award winning band.

Miss Brenda Brown's speech was about children — The Inscrutable Four-Year-Old. Miss Mitton's informative speech was entitled The Meaning of Art. Miss Vecqueray's subject Our Glorious 100 Years referred to the accomplishments of the Pythian Sisters' worldwide organization. Mrs. Oxley mentioned later Miss Vecqueray had been ill for the past two or three days.

Miss Harper chose as her subject Royal Rhodes in Summer, an account of a short stay at the Vancouver Island college. The eighth candidate, Miss Hilary Brown, spoke informatively on British Invasion, about the Beatle musician quartet.

Five children from Jean Brown's School of Dancing entertained with a gypsy number entitled Tarentelle, to finish the evening's program by 8 p.m.

Armstrong Enderby Riding Club Has Success With First Social

ARMSTRONG — Armstrong Enderby Riding Club reports its first social evening to be an unqualified success. The banquet, held in the Parish Hall, Armstrong on Jan. 15, was well attended, and those attending expressed the opinion that it should become an annual affair.

Entertainment for the evening was supplied by George Benamiller of Armstrong with accordion selections.

Twelve-year-old Greg Bennett was a happy boy when he won the high-point award for 1964. Greg was presented with a horse blanket by Hugh Wardrop on behalf of Buckerfield's Ltd., Armstrong, and a plaque engraved with his name. This will make for an interesting contest in the junior point system this year, when Greg and several other youngsters are determined to win. Points received this past year by Greg, and the next highest five members, are shown below, indicating the rough competition the past year:

Junior Point System — (Top Six):	Points
Greg Bennett	267.4
David Appleby	245.1
Greg Pieper	241.3
Bill Schaler	238.6
Denale Bennett	234.6
Steve Pieper	188.4

The annual meeting of the riding club was held in the Armstrong Fire Hall on the evening of January 18. Returning president, Ed Chennells, gave his report on the year's activities and expressed the hope that more of the junior members would be able to participate in the trail rides and in horse shows up and down the Valley during 1965.

The president expressed thanks to retiring secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Davydshak for her excellent work in the office she had held last year.

Recreation Centre Tenders To Be Received By Feb. 9

VERNON — Tenders have been called for construction of the new recreation centre on property at the extension of 37th Ave., known as the Harris property. The area is approximately 15,000 square feet. City Clerk Ian Gervon notified city council at the last meeting tenders will be received on or before Feb. 9 before 5 p.m.

The recreation centre plan includes a large assembly hall with a unique tilting floor, three gymnasiums of different sizes, and a swimming pool. The hall, gymnasium and pool centre around a central lobby, the point of entry from the outside where access to these main areas are provided.

The assembly hall is hexagonal shape in the plan—six sided—with the hexagon 95 feet across. Included in the plan is a foyer, kitchen, dressing rooms, a stage, and furniture and stage storage areas. The hall is suitable for theatrical presentations, convention seating, or for entertainment such as dancing, and is most versatile.

The 25 metre swimming pool is rectangular in shape with an area projected off one side for diving. There is spectator seating along the length of the pool along one side. Next to the pool are shower rooms, dressing rooms, check point managers and instructors offices.

The largest of the three gymnasiums is 42 x 83 feet and the smallest 30 x 45 feet.

The city states the lowest or any other tender will not necessarily be accepted. Plans and specifications are available from Allen, Gower, Huggins, Mettlejohn, architects.

A bid bond or certified cheque in the sum of five per cent of the amount of the tender, together with a letter from a bonding company stating that a performance bond of 50 per cent of the amount of the tender will be supplied, is to accompany each tender.

VALLEY SOCIAL EVENTS

LUMBY

Mrs. Frank Watson of Lavington and Mrs. R. W. Holmes-Smith of Lumby have returned from a trip to Vancouver where the two women attended a special convention of the CCB (Canadian Council of the Blind) which was held on January 12 and 13. This special convention resulted out of the last CCB conference held in Winnipeg last September, and instead of being held in the Queen Elizabeth Hall as usual, was held at The Lodge, on Bowen Island, the summer holiday camp for the blind throughout B.C.

Rev. and Mrs. A. Beagle have his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Beagle visiting with them from Penticton until Sunday. Mr. Beagle's older brother Vern, also from Penticton, was visiting as well, but returned home on Wednesday of this week.

At last Wednesday's regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to St. James the Less Anglican Church, Mrs. Brian Loadman and Mrs. Ken Johnson were appointed joint Little Helper's secretaries. Thanks were extended to the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen for a donation of skates for the Prince Albert Residential School, and plans were discussed for the Women's World Day of Prayer to be held March 5, at St. James the Less Anglican Church.

Rev. A. Beagle of the Lumby Pentecostal Church is attending a Minister's Seminar being held at the Elton Tabernacle in Vernon from Tuesday to Thursday of this week.

The Haberstock sisters of Vernon featured special music and preaching at a well attended service held in the Pentecostal Church in Lumby last Sunday evening.

Witch Doctors, Drugs Instill Courage On Congolese Rebels

WASHINGTON (AP)—G. Mennen Williams told senators today that "witch doctors" and drugs are used to convince rebels in the Congo that they are "invincible to bullets."

Williams, assistant state secretary for African affairs, also said that the Communist threat to Africa is "real" and "dangerous."

He testified at hearings by a Senate subcommittee on use of African refugees by the Communists to further their interests.

Williams said that most Congolese rebel leaders are motivated by a desire for political power, rather than ideological considerations "despite their affinity for leftist jargon and affiliations" and willingly accept both financial and military aid from the Russian and Chinese Communists.

"Such success as the rebel army has had up to now springs from discipline based upon tribal beliefs," he said. "Initiation ceremonies convince rebel soldiers that witch doctors have made them invincible to bullets."

"Protected by this belief, and bolstered frequently by drugs, they often unnerve poorly disciplined and inadequately led central government forces by relentless attacks."

At the opening of the hearing, Senator Philip A. Hart (Dem. Mich.), the subcommittee chairman, said in many cases African refugees "are providing Communist agents with raw material for organized efforts—politically and militarily—to establish openly Communist or pro-Communist nationalist regimes."

De Gaulle Happy Following Talks

PARIS (AP)—President de Gaulle was reported today to have been highly satisfied with his two-day talks with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, which emphasized a new start toward European political union.

The talks, held Tuesday and Wednesday at nearby Rambouillet, were discussed in today's session of the French cabinet. A cabinet spokesman afterward recounted de Gaulle's attitude.

He said the French leader now feels Franco-West German co-operation can be expressed in a beginning of a European political union, as well as in new attempts to achieve the reunification of Germany.

PATROL FORCE NOW IN THE RED

BERLIN (Reuters)—Red-faced West Berlin police are hunting a car thief—in their own ranks.

"It is all very embarrassing," a police spokesman said as the guardians of the law lined up to have their own fingerprints taken.

A few days ago a police radio car spotted a stolen Volkswagen outside a bar inside were a policeman's bat and coat.

As a man with a civilian overcoat over his police uniform left the bar and walked toward the car, one of the radio car crew stopped him and asked "can I see your papers, colleague?"

"Certainly," the man replied, "they're in the car."

He got in—and drove away at top speed pursued by the radio car which later found the Volkswagen abandoned. It had false licence plates of police origin.

"There's still a chance that the thief is not a policeman and that he just got hold of the uniform," the spokesman said.

"But we don't believe that ourselves. We must find him."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By R. JAY BECKER
(Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

Q. You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable, and have opened One Spade. Partner responds Two Notrump. What would you now bid with each of the following four hands:

1. ♠KQJ76 ♣A ♢A ♣AK6
2. ♠AKQJ76 ♣A ♢A ♣AK6
3. ♠AKQJ76 ♣A ♢A ♣AK6
4. ♠AKQJ76 ♣A ♢A ♣AK6

1. Six notrump. Partner's response shows 12 to 15 point strength in the unbid suits, and balanced distribution (4-3-3-3 or 4-4-2-2). The combined point total is therefore sure to be at least 33, the compulsory number for a slam. Since partner's hand is the notrump type, just as ours is, we simply raise him to six notrump. There should be no doubt about the prospect of making 12 tricks.

2. Three clubs. If necessary, we can play notrump here also, but it is better to sound out the chance of a spade game before committing ourselves to notrump. Three clubs warns partner that there is some doubt about notrump. It asks him to show support for spades if he has three of them. If he does bid three spades, we plan to bid four.

Of course, if partner's rebid is three notrump, we pass. The main point is that practically all our strength is confined to the black suits and it is therefore important to caution partner, by bidding three clubs, that we lack all-around strength.

3. Four notrump. This is an invitational raise in notrump that has absolutely nothing to do with Blackwood. It is not a forcing bid. It merely invites partner to go on if his first response consisted of maximum instead of minimum values.

Partner may have 13, 14 or 15 points for his two notrump response. It is therefore possible for the combined point count to be 32, 33 or 34 points. We can't tell which it is at this stage of the bidding. If the total is 33 or 34, we should want to be in a slam; if it is only 32, we don't. We can't decide the matter unilaterally, because there is no way of knowing whether partner has the top or bottom limit for his two notrump bid. It is therefore best to pass the buck to partner.

4. Three notrump. The only problem here is whether it is better to bid three spades to show a five-card suit, or to raise directly to three notrump. It is true that in many hands it is advisable to show five-card length in a major suit, but in this case, where the hand lends itself so strongly to notrump play, there should be no desire to undertake a ten-trick game. Our divided honor strength indicates that every suit is doubly stopped.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
This day's aspects bring warnings against temperamentalism, emotionalism and over-sensitivity. It's an excellent period for creative and inspirational work, however, and a generous Venus influence favors romance and family affairs.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the next year marked by exceptional progress where ambitious and worthwhile projects are concerned. The stellar influences are favorable from both occupational and financial standpoints—with special emphasis on the months of April, May, August and November. In intervening months, however, consolidate gains. Don't, in a spirit of optimism, go overboard in spending—especially in June and October. Domestic and social affairs should prove stimulating for most of the year and, for the single happy romantic developments are indicated between now and Feb. 1, in April, June and August—the months of April and August being particularly favorable to all Aquarians. Look for opportunities to travel in late April, June and/or August. Creative workers should find the period between now and November highly inspiring. A child-born-on-this-day will be imaginative, resourceful and highly diplomatic in business dealings.

Campbell Backs Minor Hockey

MONTREAL (CP)—Clarence Campbell Thursday threw the weight of the National Hockey League behind Minor Hockey Week, which begins Saturday.

The NHL president said: "Minor Hockey Week in Canada affords a welcome opportunity to recognize and pay tribute to the wonderful service provided by a host of community-minded and public-spirited citizens who provide the hundreds of thousands of young boys with the facilities and the opportunity to learn to play our national game."

PAUL SIDELINED PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh Hornets' and today's centre Hugh Paul, who broke his right leg in Wednesday night's 3-2 American-Hockey-League victory over Springfield Indians, will be sidelined at least five weeks.

Tory Press Appears Gleeful At Gordon Walker's Downfall

LONDON (Reuters)—Conservative-leaning newspapers today were gleeful over the surprise defeat of Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker in a by-election Thursday.

Two right-wing papers lauded the defeat "public disenchanted" and "black Friday" for the Labor administration.

The Times, independent under the headline "Deep damage to government," says Gordon Walker's failure to win a theoretical safe seat threw doubt on his political future and inflicted deep damage to the morale of a government already struggling with difficulties.

Gordon Walker's defeat was linked with the other by-election at Nuneaton in central England where fellow cabinet member Frank Cousins, minister of technology, was elected, but by a much-reduced margin.

The Daily Telegraph, Conservative, says the first two by-elections since the new government took power last October Legion Plans Coaching Clinics VANCOUVER (CP)—The first of five regional coaching clinics under the new Royal Canadian Legion sports training program has been set for Nanaimo Jan. 23-24.

Officials said Lionel Pugh, new Legion sport training director, will be assisted by Glen de Giorgio, Eric Broom, Don Braham and Melita Shoshan.

The clinic will be open for track and field coaching training to candidates from the Victoria, Cowichan and mid-island Legion zones.

Other clinics have been tentatively set for Abbotsford Feb. 19-21; Prince George, March 19-21; and Kelowna, April 23-25. No date has yet been set for a clinic planned for Terrace, probably sometime in May.

SOCIAL STIGMA SAID ATTACHED TO OLDER COMPETITORS

Coach Raps Our Views on Olympic Sports

SASKATOON (CP)—"A subtle social stigma" is attached to people who compete in Olympic sports beyond high school, says Bob Adams of Saskatoon, coach of Canada's 1964 Olympic track team.

Adams, the only Canadian to represent Canada at the Olympic and British Empire Games as both a competitor and coach, said the community "regards almost all such athletes as children, kids... who haven't grown up."

"This is especially true of girls after they marry. Any move for a girl to continue in track after she marries is frowned upon. No such stigma is attached to men or women overseas."

"This seems to be a North American trait, though in the United States the athlete can go one step further to college graduation."

"In Canada it has hindered sound development of mature athletes able to do well under great pressure, such as the Olympics."

Adams, 39, a native of Alaska, Sask., and now a high school teacher at Saskatoon, said in an interview:

"No one seems to think there's anything wrong with strong young men playing football or hockey until they are relatively old. In fact in these sports we admire the aging athlete."

But employers and others scoff at men and women who participate in soccer, boxing, track or basketball, especially when the athlete seeks time off work to participate or financial support to compete, said Adams. He admitted there were exceptions.

"No longer can we expect to send kids to the Olympics to get experience. This must be gained at lesser international meets. It's not fair to the kids to be thrown against top people who will severely outclass them."

"It's difficult to say when a competitor is ready for the Olympics. Perhaps we could use lesser meets to decide. The problem arises in situations where an athlete just misses the Olympic standard."

"An example was Steve Spencer of Vancouver. He just failed to make the Olympic high jump standard of six feet nine inches. But he was so far ahead of others in Canada I'm sure youngsters interested in high jumping would become discouraged when they see how a successful jumper can fail to reach the Olympics."

"When selecting a team, it must be remembered that younger athletes are aware of what is being done. These youngsters can't be discouraged."

"If we can't take such people as Spencer to the Olympics then we certainly should be planning a national team which does represent Canada in some other international competition. If Canada can't find the money for tours by national teams it should not expect medals at the Olympics."

PARTIAL REMEDY Indoor winter sports have helped ease Adams' dejection on competitor at the Helsinki Olympics and a role model and captain of the Canadian team at the British Empire Games in Vancouver.

But the critical problem is "Thinking about SUBDIVISION?"

BRIEFS FROM AROUND B.C.

TOURISTS PAY UP VICTORIA (CP)—The value of the tourist industry to British Columbia rose more than 30 per cent in 1964 from the record $150,445,000 in 1963. A report from the B.C. Travel Bureau tabled in the legislature Thursday estimated tourists from the United States and Canada spent $153,500,000 in the province last year. In 1960 the comparable figure was $108,600,000.

PERMITTED TO DRIVE VANCOUVER (CP)—City council has agreed to permit former alderman Archie Proctor to drive a taxi in the city. The decision reverses a ruling of the police department which denied him a chauffeur's licence. Council made its decision after studying a psychiatric report on the former alderman.

BEAUTY QUEEN VANCOUVER (CP)—The man who organized the last two Miss Vancouver contests has proposed a Miss B.C. contest. Bill Davis, former president of the Metropolitan Communities Association and Wednesday he thinks B.C. should have one representative in the Miss Canada contest.

APPROVE RESOLUTION NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—New Westminster harbor commissioners Wednesday approved a resolution requesting the government-in-council to proclaim formation of the Fraser River Harbor Commission. Legislation setting up the new body was approved by Parliament last November. When it is proclaimed, the New Westminster Harbor Commission will cease to exist.

NAME CHAIRMAN NANAIMO (CP)—J. B. Litch, principal of the senior secondary school here, has been named chairman of a committee to study sources of money to finance a Nanaimo area regional project. Gabriola Island and Harwood decided not to join other Nanaimo area centres in a common project.

SEEK RULING EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta Women's Liberal Association wants the province's school leaving age raised to 16 from 15. The association passed a resolution to this effect at its annual convention Thursday.

FEEDERS REPORT EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta Liberal Party says it wants the report of Judge L. S. Turcotte into operations of the Lethbridge Central Feeders Association made public. Liberal leader Dave Hunter said Thursday the party was not prejudging the inquiry, but was worried about whether it would learn all the facts. The association went into bankruptcy last year when an $800,000 operating deficit was discovered.

ARCTIC ADAPTATION The snowy owl is protected against the Arctic cold by dense feathers that cover even its talons and bill.

ON THE PRAIRIES New Project To Beat Fire WINNIPEG (CP)—The Winnipeg fire department plans to inspect all rooming houses of three or more stories in the city. Those without the inspection will be given 30 days to install them or face prosecution. Fire Chief Cecil Leckie said Thursday.

DEFEAT A TRAGEDY The pro-Labor Sun says the government suffered a shattering defeat in the by-election and adds that Gordon Walker's second defeat at the polls in three months was "a tragedy and a humiliation."

"A new and absolutely safe seat will have to be found for him soon. It is impossible for Mr. Gordon Walker to remain foreign secretary for much longer outside Parliament."

The independent, left-wing Daily Mirror says: "For Premier Harold Wilson's Labor government the Leyton disaster cannot be regarded as anything but a serious setback."

"Mr. Wilson must now decide whether he can allow his foreign secretary to have another try at getting a seat in the Commons. He could send Mr. Gordon Walker to the House of Lords. But it is doubtful whether the premier would be willing for him to remain in his present key job."

DAMAGING ABROAD The political correspondent for The Daily Mail, Conservative, says the defeat was "damaging abroad for the government especially, and it must bring speculation about a spring general election much closer."

Overshadowing the personal embarrassment for the foreign secretary was the dramatic public censure of the government and its record. The Daily Mail says.

The right-wing Daily Sketch says in an editorial Gordon Walker's defeat was "startling proof of public disenchantment with the Labor government."

His defeat is due to the hopeless muddled record of Labor's first 100 days.

The right-wing Daily Express says it was "a black Friday for Labor."

For Labor, Gordon Walker's defeat was "a tremendous blow to Mr. Wilson's administration. It is a remarkable humiliation of a man chosen by the prime minister to be foreign secretary."

The Times, independent under the headline "Deep damage to government," says Gordon Walker's failure to win a theoretical safe seat threw doubt on his political future and inflicted deep damage to the morale of a government already struggling with difficulties.

Gordon Walker's defeat was linked with the other by-election at Nuneaton in central England where fellow cabinet member Frank Cousins, minister of technology, was elected, but by a much-reduced margin.

OLD STYLERS FACE PENTICTON IN HOOP ACTION HERE SATURDAY

Kelowna Old Stylers, leaders of the International League swing back into league action Saturday night after a two-week layoff. Last week the senior men's hoop squad participated in a four-team tournament at Penticton.

Opposition at the Kelowna secondary school gymnasium will be provided this week by Penticton. Starting time of their main event is 8:30 p.m.

In the preliminary warm-up at 7 p.m., Kelowna secondary school's Wildcats will meet the Penticton secondary senior B team.

Old Stylers possess a 6 win 2 loss record and need two wins in their last four league outings to nail down first place and the league championship. There are no league playoffs but Old Stylers will compete in senior B playoffs for the provincial crown.

Classy Vernon Club Too Much For Game Kelowna Juveniles

Vernon juveniles showed a little too much polish and finesse in knocking the Kelowna club out of the Okanagan juvenile playoff picture here Thursday night. Vernon dumped Kelowna 7-3 in the second game of a best-of-three semi-finals.

The winners outskated and outscored their opponents in every period. Vernon shot into a 3-1 first period lead, made it 5-2 at the close of the second and counted two more to Kelowna's single in the final frame.

George Watson paced the Vernon offence with a hat trick. Teammate Rick Reilly scored a pair and Mike Clark and Bill Nixon counted singles.

For Kelowna, scoring was evenly divided between Larry McKenzie, Bill Schmidt and Rick Schmidt.

Vernon took six of the 11 penalties called. Kelowna lost the first game at Vernon 8-3.

Lineups: Vernon: Goal, Ingram; defence, G. Clarke, Smith, Clark, Watson; wings, Cam, M. Clark; alternates, Southward, Nixon, Elliot, Culley, Ouch, Reilly, Williamson, Palm.

Makinen Hangs On To Win Monte Carlo

MONTRE CARLO (AP)—Time Makinen of Finland and his English co-driver Paul Easter won the 4th Monte Carlo rally Thursday after a final speed run in a BMC Cooper 5 over icy mountain roads.

Makinen and Easter took a big lead on points in the long-distance endurance test during the first four days of the rally, then maintained it during the 575-mile dash through the mountain Alps.

They won with an official total of 5,118 1/100 penalty points.

Don McKenney, left winger with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, has been sent to Rochester, N.Y., to play with the Rochester Americans, the Leafs' farm club in the American Hockey League. Coach Punch Imlach said McKenney had been sent to Rochester "to give him a chance to play himself back into shape."

He also announced that Peter Stelmowski, called to Toronto Jan. 3 as an emergency stand-in, will remain with the Leafs on a regular basis.

Rested Crozier Blanks Bruins 3-0

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Fourteen years ago Detroit Red Wings granted an exhausted Ted Lindsay a mid-season vacation and he wound up winning the National Hockey League scoring championship.

The Wings prescribed the same medicine this season for fatigue but for a new patient, goalie Roger Crozier. And the result could be the same—a trophy, the Vezina as the NHL's top netminder.

Crozier was shipped off to Florida with his wife two weeks ago for a rest after giving up 19 goals in four games. The Wings were floundering in a three-game losing streak, their longest of the season.

But since his return, Crozier has been between the posts for two Detroit victories in three games, allowed six goals, and Thursday night posted his fourth shutout of the season as the Wings dumped hapless Boston Bruins 3-0 in the only game played.

While Crozier stopped 21 shots for his first shutout since last Oct. 29, his teammates supplied a goal in each period and moved within two points of third-place Toronto Maple Leafs in the standings.

Defenceman Marcel Pronovost scored what proved to be the winner on a power play in the first period—his first goal of the season. Teammates Paul Henderson and Alex Delvecchio added insurance markers later.

"Our Marlene" Struggles To Win

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Doris Phillips edged out medalist Roberta Albert in the opening round of the Helen Doherty women's amateur golf tournament Thursday after a rules dispute tied up the match for 45 minutes.

Miss Albert, who shot a record-breaking seven-under-par 69 Wednesday, protested that Mrs. Phillips' caddy tested the green with his hands on the 11th hole.

Officials ruled against Mrs. Phillips, squaring the match, but she bounced back to win 2 and 1.

Mrs. Marlene Sturt of Toronto, a three-time winner of the tourney, struggled for a 2 and 1 victory over Cookie Berger.

Nancy Roth, Doherty champion for the last two years, beat 16-year-old Sandra Post of London, Ont., on the last hole.

JOHNSTON FRUSTRATED

It was another frustrating night for Crozier's counterpart, Boston goalie Ed Johnston as he made 35 stops, but hardly had a chance on the other three.

Pronovost's goal, scored while Ab McDonald was penalized, came on a shot from the point that bounced crazily in front of the net. Johnston had just finished making four quick saves.

Henderson struck in the second period. He waited at the open corner for a perfect pass from Larry Jeffrey and had Johnston at his mercy. He showed none and registered his fourth goal of the campaign.

Delvecchio added his 11th this season in the third, tipping in a 45-foot shot by Parker MacDonald.

Bucks In Do-Or-Die Struggle To Keep Rockets Off Course

Buckaroos will pull out all the stops tonight in an effort to clinch their second Okanagan Junior Hockey League pennant this weekend. The last time Bucks pulled off the feat was in the 1962-63 campaign when they noosed out the same opposition, Kamloops Rockets.

Tonight the same two rivals lock horns at Memorial Arena starting at 8:30 p.m. Kamloops only need a win to sew up the title, whereas Kelowna must gather three of a possible four points available, in this final back-to-back series. The return engagement and last game of the regular schedule is at Kamloops Saturday night.

A special chartered bus has been booked to take Kelowna fans to the Saturday game and 41 passengers are needed to fill the bus. The deadline has been extended, tickets can be obtained at Feedham's Smoke Shop until 1 p.m. Saturday.

Bucks will be without the services of their ace goalie Mike Gaal for this weekend series. Understudy Terry Lawrenson of Kelowna juveniles will tend the nets. Gaal is in hospital with an abscessed throat.

Also missing from the lineup will be Lyn Swanson, Reg Saunders, Norbert Wildeman, all out with injuries. Defenceman-forward Greg Scriver returns to action tonight.

Howe Makes Steady Progress Nudges Into 5th In Scoring

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Gordie Howe picked up an assist Thursday night in Detroit Red Wings' 3-0 victory over Boston Bruins to climb into a three-way tie for fifth place in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Ragan's Old Stick Putts Like Charm

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)

—Dave Ragan deftly swung an elderly, pawn-shop putter Thursday to deadlock with veteran Doug Ford for the first-round lead in the $84,500 Bing Crosby golf tournament. Each fired a sub-par 66.

Ragan carded seven birdies with putts ranging up to 35 feet. He used a wooden shaft club he was given last week by a friend who bought it in a pawn shop a quarter century ago.

The pair were one stroke ahead of Don January, who had a five-under 67. Skee Riegel fashioned a 68.

Al Balding of Toronto shot a 36-34—70 while Stan Leonard of Vancouver had a 35-35—71.

Among the late finishers were Jack Nicklaus, who celebrated his 25th birthday with a 72 and Arnold Palmer, who shot a 73. U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi soared to an 81.

PETER'S PATTERN

A view from the top of the world is the impression one gleams looking over the cluster of clouds from Big White Mountain. It's quite an awesome sight to one not so accustomed. Seeing those frilly light-grey clouds hanging out over the valley... It's almost imaginable one could actually walk out over them, they appear so permanent. Like an extension of the snowy tundra.

For the hundreds of skiers there is more to Big White than the scenery which in itself is breathtaking and worth the trip. It is quite a revelation to the novice to drive through fog and from dull overcast skies suddenly emerge into the bright blue over the horizon... This was our experience last weekend.

Those smitten with the sport, and it's infectious, can toss all earthly cares to the wind while enjoying a day on the slopes. Amid the invigorating mountain-fresh air cleansing one's nostrils and lungs, there is always the thrill of exciting mobility, gliding down the powdered banks on the hickorys.

Old Mother Nature seems to have dealt ski hill operators and enthusiasts in Quebec's fabulous Laurentian Mountains a haymaker this year. A report says the hills north of Montreal are a "disaster area" due to the almost complete absence of snow for the third year in a row. What a contrast! We have been hit with an abundance this year. Appears the snow belt of the Laurentians has gone dry or else shifted westward.

Skiing captures the enthusiasm of addicts of all ages. There just doesn't seem to be minimum or maximum, with-in reason that is. The main prerequisite is that one be physically capable... Like so many other participating sports, the ranks of skiers continue to swell and new and larger facilities are continuously springing up to handle the increasing demand.

An infant—in terms of development—Kelowna's Big White operation is just barely out of the cradle. But like a healthy youngster it is growing rapidly. Even its access has improved tremendously over last year.

Besides the many skiers, a normal weekend finds many carloads of awe-struck spectators who "just come up for the drive"... but can hardly wait to return and "give it a try." For the visitor it becomes almost unbearable to stand around for any length of time just watching. The itch to get out there on the boards and try your skill or luck, whichever it be, on the slopes is almost overwhelming. Even the ride up the tow beacons as a thrill in itself... I know, I fought the yearning last Sunday.

Weekend calendar... There's a varied sports menu available in town... Tonight the annual Ladies' Ogopogonette Bonspiel begins at the Kelowna Curling Club and continues through Sunday... It's also face-off time at 8:30 p.m. tonight for the crucial battle for first place in the OJHL between Buckaroos and Kamloops... Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. the league-leading Kelowna Old Stylers senior basketball team take to the court against the visiting Penticton non-league team. A preliminary game precedes the main event at 7 p.m. Action is at the Kelowna secondary school on Harvey Ave.

You're probably wondering why you received your income tax form in the mail at home rather than from your employer?

We think it's more efficient. Your employer doesn't have the responsibility of handing out forms. There is less chance of you losing them. And everybody gets his income tax form at the same time. It is a Personalized tax form. It is mailed to you. Completed by you. Returned by you. This year, because your income tax form bears your Identification code number, it can be processed faster and more economically, and, in the long run, make your tax dollars go further. Since we will be handling 6,500,000 tax returns this year (and more next year) you can see the benefits of switching to this system. You can help us make it even more efficient by filling your income tax form early. Please.

MAILED TO YOU.
COMPLETED BY YOU.
